

Sinclair Broadcast Group has as much right as CBS to broadcast critical information before the election. The public has a right to all information about the candidates for president. Let public debate decide whether it's credible or not.